TOWN CLEANED OF SNOW FOLLOWING SEVERE BLIZZARD

Large Crew of Men Fights Winning Battle With Record-Breaking Storm — Fifteen-Inch Snowfall Heaviest This Winter — Streets and Sidewalks Cleared by Nightfall On Wednesday — Snow Removal Job May Cost Town $15,000

Arlington today resumed normal activities after digging itself out from under a fifteen-inch snowfall which accompanied the 52-mile gale last Tuesday. Working feverishly all day Tuesday in an effort to keep streets open to traffic while the worst blizzard in years raged, a large crew of men under the supervision of William Toomey, superintendent of the Board of Public Works did a most commendable job.

Trucks At Premium

Wednesday morning, people going to the Centre were surprised to find both sides of Massachusetts ave in the business district completely cleaned of snow. During the day Wednesday, the two giant snow-loaders were kept busy clearing the banks of snow which had been piled up on both sides of the avenue, from Central st. up. Caught unawares as the blizzard came as a surprise, the public works board had difficulty in finding enough trucks to cope with the situation.

Coal dealers who ordinarily furnish some of their trucks to augment the Town's fleet were unable to help as much as usual because of heavy demands from customers for delivery of coal. Perini, Framingham contractor in charge of the construction of the Cambridge-Concord highway was able to supply a few trucks in the emergency while other trucks were hired from C. E. Hall, Somerville contractor.

These trucks were still on the job Wednesday and all side streets as well as Massachusetts avenue, the Town's main thoroughfare were cleared for auto traffic. Twenty-eight horse-drawn snowplows which were put into action soon after the blizzard started kept sidewalks cleared for pedestrians and Wednesday sidewalks were in better condition than after any of the previous storms this winter. With the sun coming out after the blizzard a good part of the snow melted away on Wednesday.

Boston Elevated officials complimented the Board of Public Works on the way Arlington streets were cleaned, thereby helping bus and trolley service within the town boundary considerably. Observers stated that Arlington was cleared better than any other city or town in the Elevated territory.

May Cost $15,000
Despite the fact that Arlington was in far better condition Wednesday than other surrounding towns and cities a snow removal job which will probably cost in the vicinity of $15,000 some residents protested on the conditions of streets. Impartial observers who realized the severity of the storm which crippled bus and street-car transportation, caused train wrecks and raised havoc with shipping readily complimented the Public Works Board of which Edward T. Ryan is chairman for the fine job in clearing the snow.

Non-Partisan Meeting To Be Held Tuesday

Next Tuesday, February 27 is the date set for the non-partisan meeting to be sponsored by the Arlington Heights Tower association. The meeting will take place in the Brackett school at 8 o'clock.

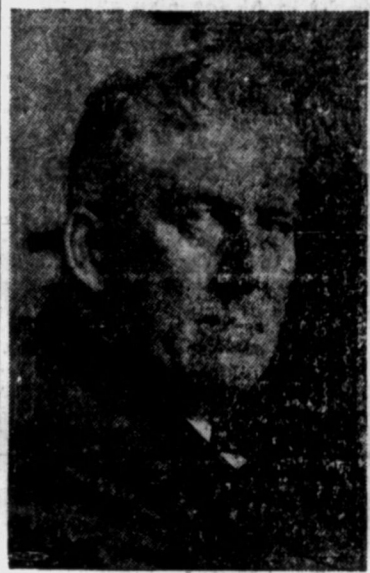

All candidates seeking office in the town election on March 5 have been invited to speak and the meeting will be absolutely non-partisan. No endorsements will be made. The public is invited.

Ryan Gives Views On Move By Carpenter

The following letter was received by the News this week: Editor Arlington News, Arlington, Mass., Dear Sir:

After reading the letter of Mr. George Carpenter which was published in your issue of Feb. 16th, I feel it my duty to present the following facts concerning Mr. Carpenter, so that the voters of Arlington may be enabled to form their own opinion as to the importance which they should attach to his endorsement of my opponent Mr. Loren Marsh.

Mr. Carpenter has never yet cast a vote in Arlington, having registered here only within the last ten days. Nevertheless, he was an aspirant for appointment as Building Inspector in Arlington the moment the polls closed last March. His letter to the Board of Selectmen applying for this appointment is on file in the Town Hall. Mr. Carpenter at the same time had another iron in the fire as he was also a candidate for Building Inspector in the city of Malden.

DAVIS DISCUSSES TOWN'S FINANCES

At a meeting of the Italian American Political Club held at the G. A. R. Hall last Sunday afternoon, Ernest W. Davis, Citizens' Committee candidate for selectman, addressed the gathering on the need for continued economy in town government. He stressed the fact that expenses over which the Town has no control have risen so fast that economies have had to be made in other departments of the Town.

For example, three years ago the Town received from the State of Massachusetts, which collects the gas, income and corporation taxes, the sum of $94,000. Two years ago the Town received only $1500. Last year the Town had to pay to the State, to help run the State government, $75,000. And a couple of weeks ago, the bill from the State was received, and this year Arlington must pay to Massachusetts the sum of $123,000. A total difference in three years of $217,000 or approximately $4.00 on the tax rate. The tax rate has not risen, but that was possible only through economies in other departments.

Another interesting fact that Mr. Davis brought out was that the present 10 per cent donations from town employees may last only till the first of July.

PLENTY OF ACTION IN BASKETBALL PLAYOFFS

By Bob Forest

The Playoffs in the Arlington Amateur Basketball League started last Monday night and a large crowd attended the first of the games. Only one unexpected victory took place when the Gounaris team defeated the strong Skeleton team from the Heights. The Bears also from the Heights were taken easily by the Pirates from the East end. The Arleat Club had rather a poor time with Crocco's A. A. and finished on the short end of a 47 to 23 score.

The first game of the night was between the Gounaris Club from the Centre and the Skeletons from the Heights. The Gounaris club with Glennan as high scorer won by the score of 34 to 23. McFarland the tall Skeleton center and sixth highest scorer in the League was missing and might have made a difference. Cartullo starred for the losers with twelve points.

Pirates Strong
The second game was between the Heights Bears and East End Pirates. The Pirates were far too strong for the Bears with their ace man, Smith missing. The game was rather close in the first half with the Pirates scoring only twelve points to eight of the Bears. But with the Bears only making one basket in the last half, and Forest, Hart and Igo contributing to the Pirates the final score was 23 to 12. Forest and Graci starred with eight points each.

The third game was between the senior teams, the A. A. and the Arleat club. It ended up in a rout for the A. A. after the smooth operating Crocco's had worn down the resistance of the Eastenders. Joe Donahue, former Arlington three-point shot, Scholastic started with fourteen points. The final score was 47 to 23.

Games Next Week
The top game on the card for the Amateur Basketball League

At that time the Town finances will be reviewed, and if conditions warrant it, the 10 per cent donation will be stopped. It was also stated that the donation idea was concurred in by every department lead in the Town of Arlington, and that the form of the donation was drawn up by the Town Counsel, an appointee of Mr. Collins and Mr. Lowe.

Mr. Davis also stated that the Finance Committee was responsible for the inexpensive construction of five streets in the lower end of the Town last year. The abutters on these streets will be pleasantly surprised when they receive their bills for the assessment against that construction. The bills will be small because the Finance Committee put through the idea of using Welfare Labor on the job. Credit for this goes only to Finance Committee. Mr. Davis closed by saying that he would be glad to personally assume all blame or credit for economies in the Town during the last two years, but that it cannot be forgotten that there are thirteen other members on the Finance Committee who deserve great credit for their work in keeping the financial standing of Arlington on a high plane.

will be between the winners of last week's contest, the Pirates and the Gounaris club. The Pirates have previously defeated the club but have improved considerably since that defeat. Although the Gounaris Five had a hard time winning over the Skeletons while the Pirates were wading through the Bears it is expected that the game will be close all the way through as well as interesting. The Skeletons and Bears will play in the other game. The Pals and Arleat Club in the third game will top the freewill for the evening. With three good games on for Monday the 26th it is expected that a record crowd will be present. Thursday, March 1, will see the Cardinals and the Junior A. A. playing for the semifinals to see which will play the winner of the game between the Gounaris Club and the Pirates. The A. A. vs. the Fab Seniors will be the top notch game of that night. These two teams had a fistie encounter their last meeting and the differences are expected to be settled this time.

Wife Of Former Local Man Killed In Auto Accident

Relatives in Arlington received word this week of the death in an automobile accident at Henderson, N. C. of Mrs. George Baumeister, whose husband was a former Arlington man and Mrs. Baumeister's sister, Mrs. Arthur Breslin, both of Staten Island, N. Y.

The two women were on their way to Miami, Fla., to await the return of Mrs. Baumeister's husband, a contractor, from South America.

Mrs. Breslin's husband is a New York broker. Mr. Baumeister has not lived in Arlington since the World War. The funeral services for the two women were held in New York Tuesday.

30 CANDIDATES TO SEEK OFFICE HERE IN MARCH

Arlington Man Is Victim Of Mean Thieves

Victim of a most unusual hold-up, Harry Bounono, of 107 Lake st., discovered three men who destroyed the title of the world's biggest meanies last Monday. Bounono was held up on Broadway, West Somerville, near the Elevated car barn while waiting for a bus to Arlington. First he was asked to pass over his glasses and then the $10 in cash which he happened to have. Because of poor eyesight, Bounono, deprived of his glasses, was unable to get a good look at the three bandits and when questioned by the police of Somerville he could give no description of the trio.

Bounono was standing in front of the Somerville City Home when approached by the men. One asked for a cigarette. As Bounono was about to put his hand in his pocket he was struck over the head from behind with a blunt instrument. He fell to the ground and although he offered some resistance he was forced to give up his money and glasses.

A passing motorist took the victim to his home and Lieutenant A. F. Sherry of Somerville police was notified. The latter sent Sergeant Walter Reed to Bounono's home to get a description of the attackers but Bounono could not give this.

None Withdraw After Filing Nomination Papers — Judge Brackett Unopposed For Moderator — Two-cornered Fight For Selectman, Board of Public Works and Assessor — Little Interest Shown In Contests For Other Offices

Thirty candidates will battle for election to the more important town offices in the annual election on Monday, March 5th. This does not include the large number of aspirants for election as town meeting members. For town meeting membership, the hottest contest will be in precinct 13.

Although some withdrawals were expected, all candidates who filed nomination papers before the time limit at 5 o'clock last Friday afternoon were still in the fight at 5 o'clock the following day when the time limit for withdrawal had arrived. Town Clerk E. Caroline Pierce, with whom nomination papers were filed, remained at her office in the town hall until that time in case of withdrawals.

Interest in Two Offices
Interest in the election is centered upon the two-way fight for selectman and board of public works. Unlike last year's election, the only candidates seeking these offices this year are those endorsed by the Citizens' and Civic committees, the former group comprising the Republican element for the most part and the latter, the Democratic faction of Arlington.

Judge John G. Brackett whose work as town moderator is well known is unopposed for that office this year since William Barry who has served for the past three years and who is now clerk of the public works board is not seeking re-election. Judge Brackett served several years prior to Curtis Waterman who preceded Mr. Barry as Moderator.

Candidates For Office
Following is the complete list of candidates whose names will appear on the ballot election day. Unless otherwise stated all are for one-year terms:
Moderator, John G. Brackett, 34 Lombard rd., unopposed; Selectman, Albert E. Hughes, 259 Pleasant st., and Ernest W. Davis, 61 Brantwood rd., three-year term; Public Works Board, Loren W. Marsh, 38 Norfolk rd., and Edward T. Ryan, 132 Wildwood ave., three-year term; Assessor, John D. O'Leary, 55 Bow st., and Peter F. O'Neil, 209 Broadway, three-year term; School Committee, Joseph Bevins, Theresa N. Turner, Clement J. Beaudet, Harrie H. Dadnum and Russell Crozier, three-year term, three to be elected.

Trustee Robbins Library fund, M. Helen Teele, 11 Jason st., and Arthur J. Wellington, 86 Pleasant st., three-year term, two to be elected; Board of Health, Alfred W. Lombard, 21 Jason st., three-year term, unopposed; Park Commissioner, Paul C. Griffin, 37 Phillips st., and George H. Shirley, 16 Walnut st., two-year term; Park commissioner, John B. Byrne, 17 Chestnut st., and Joseph M. Cormier, 57 Lafayette st., three-year term; Planning Board, Edward G. Kelley, 54 Orant rd., Charles M. MacMillan, 95 Jason st., Edward S. Shinn, 74 Florence ave., and Harry E. Keenan, 66 Palmer st., three-year term, two to be elected.

Sinking Fund commissioner, V. T. Hanson, 20 Kimball rd., two-year term, unopposed; sinking fund commissioner, W. D. Clark, Jr., 25 Peabody st., three-year term, unopposed; Trustee Pratt fund, V. T. Hanson, three-year term, unopposed; Trustee Pratt fund, W. D. Clark, Jr., five-year term, unopposed; Cemetery Commissioner, Frederick W. Hill for one-year term and M. Ernest Moore for three-year term, both unopposed; Tree Warden, Daniel M. Daley, 8 Medford street, unopposed.

In addition a large number of candidates filed papers for town meeting membership.

325 Still On CWA Payroll In Arlington

A total of 325 men still remained on the CWA payroll in Arlington yesterday and word was being awaited from Washington to see what the next step would be.

Questioned about the possibility of layoffs due to recent reports from Washington, Neil Peters, local secretary of the local CWA board said latest instructions were to layoff men as soon as the projects on which they were working are completed. Should a man be on a paint job in a school, for instance, he is to be dropped from the CWA payroll when that job is completed. Men cannot be transferred to other projects, according to latest instructions. The State CWA board will not approve any more projects because of lack of money, according to Mr. Peters.

None of the CWA men were assigned to know removal of public streets since that was left entirely in the hands of the Public Works department. However, Mr. Peters sent 50 men to private homes for snow shovelling all day Tuesday. The men seeking work waited at the old town hall and as soon as telephone calls for shovellers were received, the men were sent out by Mr. Peters.

Harold Worth will sing "The Irish Jubilee" at a house rally to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barry, 36 School st. next Wednesday evening. The rally is sponsored by the Civic Committee.

SUNDAY EVENING -- 7:30

In response to many requests Rev. Laurence L. Barber will give on Sunday evening at 7:30 in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational Church his Annual Reading from "The Poets of New England". He will include some very recent writings and also some old favorites. Because of the requests made, he will include in this reading, selections from Whittier's great picture of New England home life, "Snow-Bound". Any persons interested in such readings are invited. There is no admission charge nor collection.

BENEFIT TO CONSUMER

A year ago the comparatively few, and disconsolate, delegates to the annual convention of the National Retail Dry Goods Association heard a great Boston merchant remind them of three basic points of weakness in retail merchandising that obstructed even an approach to recovery. They were (1) false or exaggerated statements in advertising; (2) price cutting below the line of cost to outsell competitors; and (3) buying cheap, trashy goods produced by sweatshops and child labor, "thereby driving out of business the makers of quality merchandise who paid fair wages and thus sustained the purchasing power of the consuming public."

This gentleman, P. A. O'Connell, president of E. T. Slattery Co., recalled his address of the previous year and said: "I certainly had no idea that such progress as we have seen could come in a single year. In my fondest imagining, I could not have hoped that within exactly a year I would have for my subject the practical title, 'Merchandising Under the Retail Code.' So rapid has been the reformation that even now we are only beginning to realize its magnitude."

Recalling the fact that millions have "gone back into the industries, taking jobs that have been made by the larger demand for goods"; that "140,000 people have gone back to work in the retail dry goods stores alone and that this is 15,000 more now at work in our stores than at any time in the entire history of this industry," Mr. O'Connell declared: "The benefit of this tremendous increase in consumer buying power has only begun to be reflected in retail trade."

"Approximately 7 billion dollars is to be spent by the Government during the next 6 months," he reminded the largest attendance at the convention on record. "If any one has failed to realize what this means to American business, it is time for him to wake up."

SOCKING THE SAVING

The mania for originating new tax methods to pay for governmental extravagance, reached a peak in New York City with a proposal to pick out a handful of businesses for a new brand of class taxation. The financial, real estate, insurance, savings bank and public utility worlds were astounded.

The proposal would tax life insurance, for example, "one-quarter of one per cent of such portion of the value of its total capital, investment and gross assets as shown by its books as its receipts on account of policies of insurance in the City of New York bear to its total receipts."

This is inequitable taxation of funds held in trust for millions of people.

The great proportion of life insurance policyholders are persons of small means. Life insurance is often their only safeguard for families and dependents. But politicians point to the accumulated savings of these small policyholders pooled in an insurance company, and say, "Let's tax this rich corporation." They do not tell the people that such a plan is an installment method of destroying savings of the masses.

Supposing other cities and states adopted the tactics proposed in New York City. What would happen to the savings of the nation? One hesitates to conjecture.

Have we reached a point where no investment is sacred; where politicians can confiscate private funds to fill public treasuries which their mad schemes have depleted?

Unless such class legislation and confiscatory taxation of private savings and investments, are stopped in this nation, private property rights, that great heritage of American citizens, will have disappeared.

THE NEWS OBSERVES

Provisions should be made to provide an ambulance that will be in keeping with the standing of this community. It should not be necessary to use our patrol wagon for accident cases or transportation of contagious cases. Dignified humane ambulance service is one of the prime requisites of a well ordered community.

The storm of last Tuesday was the worst of the winter. Only the main streets were opened up for auto traffic and trains, trolleys and buses were behind schedule.

Snow removal trucks were busy in front of the town hall most of the day clearing snow from the street but the amount of snow made progress difficult.

The meeting planned for Tuesday night to discuss the Sales Tax was postponed due to the storm.

Great Britain, France and Italy having cautioned Germany to keep hands off Austria are supposedly willing to do likewise.

It does not please some of our people to have Representative Gott favor the sterilization bill. Many however believe that this measure is most desirable in many cases.

A recent showing of a sketch entitled "Crazy Quilt" at the Metropolitan in Boston was vulgar and indecent in the extreme. It is about time that some of the filth that is handed out to the public be shut off.

On February 27th all critics of the N. R. A. are to be given an opportunity to express their views in Washington. All evidence supported by facts will be welcome in the interests of making the N. R. A. what it should be.

The N. Y. N. H. & H. Railroad on Tuesday cancelled all service between Boston and New York until further notice.

February so far has been the coldest month on record. Snow fall has been about double the usual amount for the month.

Walter F. Brown caused a sensation when he charged that his mail was opened before reaching him, at the air mail hearing in Washington on Tuesday. Clerk admitted that his mail had been held up.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson gave a pointed speech over the radio this week and announced that an open forum would be held on N. R. A. on February 27th in Washington.

How is the N. R. A. code for your business working out? We invite an expression of opinion from our readers.

The snow was removed from the sidewalks on many of our streets on Wednesday morning while in Belmont we notice snow a foot and a half deep on the sidewalks of the street leading to Arlington. In snow removal Arlington is second to none.

We understand that the contract for printing the Arlington High School year book has been awarded to the Dedham Press. The News was not given an opportunity to bid which is unfortunate as we believe such work should be done by an Arlington concern if possible.

RYAN GIVES VIEWS

Early last fall Mr. Carpenter came to me and announced his intention to become a candidate for the Board of Public Works but offered to withdraw and lend his support to my candidacy provided I would use my supposed influence with the Board of Selectmen to have him appointed Building Inspector. My answer to him was that he could feel perfectly free, as far as I was concerned, to become a candidate if he so desired. I informed him that the appointment of a building inspector was a matter for the Board of Selectmen and that I had plenty to do in looking after the matters which come under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works.

About six weeks ago, Mr. Carpenter approached another member of the Board of Public Works and had nomination papers which he claimed contained sufficient signatures to nominate him as a candidate for the Board of Public Works and again offered to withdraw if that member would use his supposed influence with the Selectmen to have Mr. Carpenter appointed Building Inspector, and again his offer was flatly refused.

In view of the conference between Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Marsh as stated in his letter and his so recent offer to support me and his still more recent warm letters of endorsement of Mr. Marsh, I feel that the citizens of Arlington are entitled to know just what trade Mr. Carpenter has finally succeeded in accomplishing.

Perhaps, Mr. Marsh, or maybe one of the ghost writers for the Citizens' Committee could shed some light on this phase of their campaign.

Yours truly,
Edward T. Ryan
Candidate for reelection to the Board of Public Works.

Marsh Acknowledges Carpenter's Letter

Mr. George D. Carpenter
20 Paul Revere Road
Arlington, Mass.

Dear Mr. Carpenter:
Your withdrawal in my favor as a candidate for the office of member of Board of Public Works is very gratifying. I am deeply grateful for the courtesy and the support which you have so graciously tendered.

For my part, I hope to so serve the town that your own good friends and all the varied interests of the town will feel the sincerity of my purpose to extend equal opportunity to all, in the execution of official duties.

I have taken the liberty of asking the local newspapers to give this acknowledgement publicity in their next issues.

Sincerely yours,
Loren W. Marsh.

Ruth Chatterton At Regent Monday

Ruth Chatterton, the Luntress, who stalks the stage as her prey. Ruth Chatterton - laying the man's game and doing to her victims what philandering men are wont to do to their girls.

This is the strange role she is called on to play in "Female," the first National picture which opens at the Regent Theatre on Monday. By day, she is the ruthless executive of a great manufacturing concern. By night, her amorous temperament comes to the fore and she entices her handsome male subordinate to become her lovers. Each in turn she ruthlessly casts aside for the next, when they try to carry their business advances into their business life.

With Leslie Howard playing the leading role in which he originally created a sensation on the London and New York stages, "Berkeley Square" will be seen next Wednesday and Thursday at the Regent Theatre. "Berkeley Square" is Jesse L. Lasky's production for Fox Film of the famous John L. Balderston play which gives Heather Angel her first major role as Howard's sweetheart, the winsome and lovable Helen Pettigrew of the story.

New American Bar At New York Hotel

A new American Bar, where "a man can get a man's drink" will open today at the Hotel Times Sq. 43rd St. West of Broadway, William S. Brown, director of the hotel announced yesterday.

The bar-room, designed by Ruth S. Berlin, is decorated in the manner of a Colonial Tavern, brought up to date, in chestnut and copper. Even the bar rail will be copper rather than brass. The chairs will be leather upholstered in copper tones and the predominating note will be comfort.

While women are not excluded, Mr. Brown said none of the feminine fringe, which have come down from the speak-easy era, will be tolerated.

"I believe a good many men in New York are fed up with 'sissy' bars," he said. "This is going to be a 'fair weather' bar, where 'good fellows' can get together."

Universalist Men Enjoy Supper, Films

The Men's club of the Universalist church met in the Parish House last Friday evening. Seventy members and guests assembled for an excellent supper prepared by the women of the Samaritan Society.

After the business meeting the members were entertained by motion pictures. One interesting feature showed up-to-date production of milk under sanitary conditions and the subsequent distribution to the cities. Another film depicted the alertness necessary to keep the telephone system working at top efficiency at all times. President Frank Fielder took several rolls of films of members of the club and promised to exhibit them at the meeting on March 16. Father and Son Night was announced for the March meeting.

Hughes Speaks At House Rally

At a rally in support of the endorsed candidates of the Arlington Civic Committee held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Joseph McManus on Winter st. last Wednesday evening, Albert E. Hughes, candidate for Selectman reiterated his intention of instituting action to procure better car service for Arlington.

He stated that it is unfair for a person to be forced to pay for something which he does not receive. This condition, Mr. Hughes asserted, exists in Arlington at the present time. Thousands of dollars yearly in taxes and no improvement in service in unjust and calls for a remedy," he continued. The remedy Mr. Hughes stated, is action on the part of the Selectmen of this Town and its voters, to demand and obtain the service which is being paid for but is not received. Mr. Hughes promised if elected, to do his utmost to obtain for the taxpayers of Arlington a just return in the way of better car service for the taxpayers' money paid to the Elevated Railway.

The other candidates endorsed by the Civic Committee also spoke at the rally.

Plans are under way for a penny sale to be conducted by the Arlington Lodge of Elks at G. A. R. hall Monday, March 5. This is election day and returns will be given at the hall. President Roosevelt's speech will also be heard through amplifiers at the hall.

He reviewed the life of Paul Harris and spoke at length on the purpose of Rotary, using as his theme, "An ideal without a task is a dream; a task without an ideal is drudgery; but a task with an ideal is the hope of the world."

Allan Cowie, president of Kiwanis made a few remarks and Dr. Bruce Lawley, president of Rotary conducted the meeting which followed the weekly luncheon. Several songs were offered by club members.

Guy Favors County Branch Bank System

Bank Commissioner Guy appeared before the legislative committee on Banks and Banking yesterday urging the passage of the bill prepared by the recess bank commission calling for the setting up of a system of branch banking throughout the county.

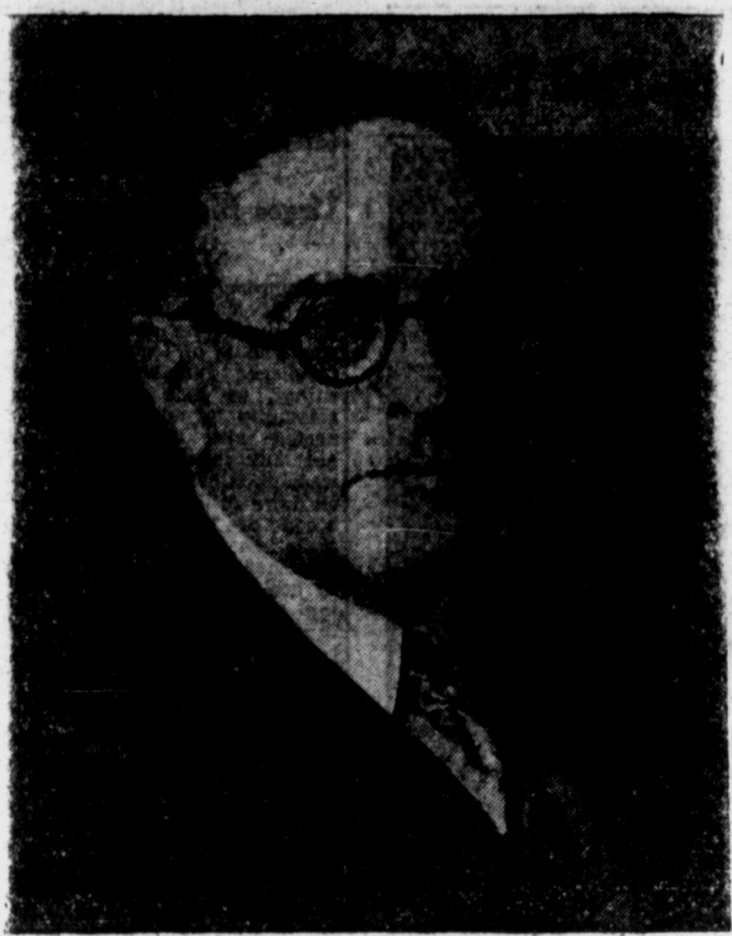

Rep. Donald N. Sleeper of Medford who is a member of the committee on Banks and Banking also served in an active capacity on the recess bank commission which drafted the recommendations heartily supported by the commissioner.

"I think the time has come," Commissioner Guy stated, "for branch banking, for several reasons, namely: that it is difficult to raise capital for individual banks; it is difficult for small banking institutions to make money; it is difficult for small banking institutions to loan out money; and many of the smaller communities are without banking facilities because they have not sufficient capital to support a bank."

When asked if there was a benefit to be gained from the setting up of branch banking, Commissioner Guy replied that there was, in that the banking would be done under the branch banking scheme rather than by large banks secretly holding smaller ones.

"There is not the responsibility placed on the holding banks, in the case of holdings, that there would be if the banks were branch banks," Commissioner Guy stated. Under the proposals supported by the bank commissioner for branch banking, the banks would be restricted as to the definite capital structure, with not less than $250,000 in capital assets.

Commissioner Guy told the committee on Banks and Banking that he approved of the recess commission's recommendation because it is designed to strengthen the banking structure of the state.

VIKING CLUB BACKS CITIZENS' CANDIDATES

Unanimous endorsement of the candidates of the Arlington Citizens' Committee, was voted last Tuesday evening by the Viking Club, local division of the John Ericson Republican club of Massachusetts, at a meeting held at 671 Massachusetts ave. President Albert Hansen presided. This club was organized twelve years ago as the Viking Republican Club of Arlington, but was reorganized two years ago as the Viking Club, the membership consisting of Scandinavian voters residing in the town. It has taken a keen interest in the civic affairs of the town and plans to take an active part in the coming election.

Owing to the inclement weather, the election of officers was postponed until Tuesday evening, Feb. 27 when a large attendance is expected. The qualifications and records of the candidates have been carefully investigated and the club is glad to recommend to its members and friends, the election of Judge John G. Brackett as Moderator; Loren W. Marsh as Selectman; Edward T. Ryan as Assessor, as well as the balance of the slate endorsed by the Arlington Citizens' Committee.

A GREAT MAN

Dear Daddy Sunshine:

I am going to write a story about Abraham Lincoln.

Abraham Lincoln was born February 12, 1809, in a rough log cabin on a small farm in the backwoods of Kentucky, in what is now Lauree County. The United States Government has recently enclosed this sacred hut in a great stone memorial, thus seeking to preserve the birthplace of one of our greatest Americans.

Lincoln's father, Thomas Lincoln, who could neither read or write, was not energetic nor ambitious and provided only the barest kind of a living for his family. Lincoln's mother Nancy Hanks Lincoln, was gentle and religious and too frail for the rude pioneer life.

When Lincoln took his seat in the United States House of Representatives he said, "If slavery isn't wrong, nothing is wrong." When he was nineteen he had said, "If I can ever hit slavery I will hit it hard," and he did.

Well—I guess I will have to close now, so

Goodbye,

Jessie Frye.
P.S.—I hope you and Mrs. Sunshine are well.

Thanks Jessie for your story. Daddy Sunshine would like to have published it before Lincoln's birthday. But still, a story on Lincoln is always welcome. We cannot write too much about that great man. Hope to hear from you again soon.

Looking Inside

The political campaign seems to be moving along. It looks like a clean cut two party affair. So far no independent office seekers have appeared. That is good and quite different from last year when it seemed to be a free-for-all. We all know that sometimes a candidate is put in the race not to win but to take votes away from the other fellow.

There is one thing that I would like to see each candidate do and that is for each one to make a clear statement of his aims and policies if and when elected. Of course we all know no one man on a board of three can do what he pleases without at least one other member being with him and also promises to do things that just can't be done don't mean much. Promising the gold mine on the State House may sound fine but it cannot be delivered.

P. S. While various candidates for Town offices may make lots of noise asking you for your vote don't forget that there are some very important positions to be filled. The list appears at the end of the ballot. I refer to the Town Meeting Members. Six to be elected from each precinct.

Don't forget that those members are your representatives at Town Meetings. They do your voting for you there. They spend your money. They vote on improvements; on Town by-laws and on all Town expenses. In fact the actions of these members come closer to you than the Town officials. The officials can only do what the law requires them to do within the money appropriated for their use but it is the Town Meeting Members who provide the money.

P. S. About seven or eight years ago the Chairman of the Finance Committee ran for Selectman and was elected. He remained Chairman of the Committee until he assumed his new office. Now no one appreciates the importance of the work of the Committee or the gripping interest it has for its members especially its chairman more than the writer but the work of the Finance Committee is not complete on election day. The voting session on Articles does not occur till two or three weeks after that and there is a report to get out and the presentation of the Finance Committee's report at the various sessions of Town Meeting—no small job. No new man can do justice to the job shoved into the Chairmanship at the last minute. The job should be carried through from now to the end of the last Town Meeting.

P. S. S. See in the Warrant for Town Meeting an Article asking the Town to authorize the Board of Public Works sell the horses bought last summer. It seems that the Board can purchase horses without special permission at $300 apiece but cannot sell them. Why not pass a State Law or a Town By-law giving our Board the special privilege of buying and selling horses and equipment. Sort of a Horse Trading—David, Harum—Board. Then again will a $300 horse bring $300 when it gets sold?

Speaking of our horses, I understand two of them have been sick. So sick in fact that they had to have a Vet call every day and an extra man hired to look after them nights. The doctor's bill was about $96 and the extra man was used several weeks at over $30 per week.

Arlington Wins Two Events In Track Contest

By BOB FOREST

Seemingly to be backed by great inspiration Gene Graf of the Arlington High track team soared to a new record in the Malden Armory last Friday afternoon when he jumped six feet and one eighth of an inch in a track meet between Arlington High and Malden High which the home team won by a decisive margin with the score 54 1-2 to 17 1-2.

Spike Cronin surprised in the 1000 yard run with a sensational victory. He took the lead in the second lap and was pushed at no time in the race. He won handily and was quite fresh at the end. Tommy McFarland made a hard try in the hurdles but was given a tie for third place. The distance was too short for Tommy's long legs, being only thirty yards. In a longer distance he would have won handily.

Graf broke the old record held by Swartz formerly of Brookline for the high jump mark in the Armory. Gene might have jumped even higher but after a couple of tries at a higher mark he decided on advice of Coach William McCarthy who is priming his boys for the State Meet. Arlington was the first track team to top two places on the successful Malden outfit this year.

30 Yard Dash—Tie for first between Jivelekan and Rendle (M), tie for third between Noseworthy and Morrison (M); time, 3 5-10s.

35 Yard Hurdles—Won by Lowery (M), second, Gordon (M), tie for third between Butler (M) and McFarland (A), time, 4 6-10s.

300 Yard Run—Won by Noseworthy (M), second, Morrison (M), third, Knox (M), time 39 1-5s.

600 Yard Run—Won by Woods (M), second, Gowell (M), third, Hanlon (A), time 1m 29 1-5s.

1000 Yard Run—Won by Cronin (A), second, Coffey (M), third, Woodcock (M), time 2m 43 4-5s.

High Jump—Won by Graf (A), second, Lowery (M), third, McFarland (A), height, 6ft. 1-8in.

Shot Put—Won by Stanton (M), second, Davis (A) third, Alexie (A), distance 45ft.

Broad Jump—Won by Jivelekan (M), second, Lowery (M), third, McFarland (A), distance 9ft. 8in.

Advocates Election Of Peter O'Neill

To the Voters and Property Owners:

I realize your desire to be represented by honest capable men. Unfortunately, this is not always possible, as you are sometimes unable to make a rational choice of candidates.

During the few weeks preceding the election the several candidates attempt to make known to you their respective merits. Unless they are men of high repute and long-standing acquaintance in the town, it is impossible for you to judge correctly their qualifications for office.

As the average citizen has a very close contact with his legal government, he desires to be represented by men who know not only the duties of their office, but also the viewpoints of their supporters. In brief, the local representative must be more than a "name", more than a politician; he must be one of the people.

During the coming election we are fortunate in having among the candidates a man who is truly a representative of the people. He has resided in this town his entire life and has been a property holder for a number of years. His numerous friends will testify to his honesty, the fact that he has been carefully singled out by the Arlington Civic Committee as the man best qualified for their organization to support for the position of Assessor, is demonstrative of trust his friends place in him.

His long business training in Boston as well as his own experience in the affairs of the Town (former member of the Finance Committee and seven years town meeting member) enables him to feel sufficiently qualified to make a fair, as well as a correct estimate of the diverse portions of property in this town.

For these reasons as well as many more that I could enumerate in his behalf, I feel justified in asking you, the voters of Arlington, to vote for and elect Peter F. O'Neill to the office of Assessor.

Charles L. Dennen,
58 Warren St.

Urges Big Vote Election Day

Approacheth Monday the Fifth day of March, A. D. 1934—the day when every citizen of Arlington who is of legal age, will be privileged and have the opportunity, to seek the quiet and solemnity of the polling-booth, armed with that precious and peaceful, yet altogether powerful, weapon, albeit a heritage handed down to him dripping with the blood of Patriots, yet, despite their sacrifice, unselfishly bequeathed to him with the right to use it peaceably, in maintaining the continuance of those fundamentals, upon which they build a strong and lasting abode for Freemen, and wherein every man might be the "Master of His Own Destiny."

Literally translated, the above metaphor may be expressed in one word V-O-T-E, its first significance symbolized by the word weapon, and secondly, interpreted as an active principle to be applied by the citizen, and which he should not fail to apply, unless it be that his citizenship shall count for naught, and the sacrifice of those who so generously bequeathed to him this birthright, shall be forgotten.

Lewis E. Stickney,
88 Appleton St.
Arlington Heights.

Citizens' Committee Rally On Thursday

"DADDY LONG LEGS" TO PROVIDE FINE ACTING

Stresses Value Of Town Plans

Henry E. Keenan in a short talk before the American Citizens' Club stressed the importance of well formulated plans for the future development of Arlington. He stated because of the nature of his business, being in the real estate business here for the past 12 years, that he is interested in the future of the town. In his talk he made mention of an editorial, that was in last week's Advocate wherein the paper expressed its interest in the future "Town Plans" of Arlington. He was pleased to see this notice in view of the fact that he is stressing the importance to the people of the town to vote for this office in the election. He was in full accord with the editorial and had many other views for future development.

In his closing remarks he stated in all due respect to his elders who are working for the best interests of the town he was certain that no growing business organization would attempt to continue without the training of younger men for the executive positions to be filled at a later date, that the board should have a young man in its ranks who is interested in the development of the town for the interests of all sections and a man who is in Arlington every day, where the residents will find him at home to all who care to visit his office. He pointed out that he was not before the voters of the town in criticism of their choice in the present hard working members of the board, who work for thankless consideration, but because now was the time to vote for a young man to be trained in this position and one who was interested in being of service to all.

Barbara Finlan Is Given Party

A surprise party was tendered to Miss Barbara Finlan last Sunday evening, in honor of her twenty-first birthday.

More than thirty friends gathered at her home, 20 Sherborn st., where the party was held. Miss Finlan was overcome with surprise when she was ushered into a prettily decorated room around which were seated a host of friends. Much talent was shown in the form of piano and vocal selections. Among those present were people from Winchester, Woburn, Malden, Arlington and Cambridge.

PARAMOUNT AND FENWAY

The leading parts in "Daddy Long Legs," the play to be given in the Robbins Memorial Town hall, March 9 and 10, have been assigned to Susan Powers as Judy Abbott, and to Prescott Boston as Jervis Pendleton.

The play is divided into four acts. The first act takes place in an orphan asylum. A wealthy man offers to educate one of the orphans. Judy Abbott is selected as the most talented because she has considerable literary ability.

At the close of the act, her benefactor is pointed out to her, but she sees only his shadow with its long legs. She nicknames him Daddy Long Legs. Hence, the title of the play.

The second act finds Judy at college; the third, in the country where Daddy Long Legs has sent her for the summer. Romance is not lacking for Judy falls in love, and the play ends in a most interesting manner.

Daddy Long Legs is being coached by Miriam Cahalin, whose careful work is well known in Arlington.

The play is being given by the Friends of the Drama for the work of the Girl Scout council.

Tickets may be obtained from the council and Troop committees and at the Girl Scout headquarters. They will also be on sale at Blake's, March 7th and 8th.

Aims and Purposes Of Civic Group Are Made Clear

The Arlington Civic Committee wishes it to be made plain to the voters of Arlington that it is not a Party organization. Its officers are not office-holders in any party organization in Arlington. Its form of organization is not identical with any other organization in the Town. It is merely a group of voters banded together for a common cause and a clear purpose.

To bear out this statement the Committee invites any citizen and voter to attend any of its meetings, and take part in any of the discussions which come up.

Registered Republicans upon their first visit will recognize other registered Republicans who have been regular attendees and who are sponsoring the candidates nominated and endorsed by the Committee. Registered Democrats and Independents will find the same thing.

The purpose of the Committee is to bring voters together, where they may hear qualifications of candidates and vital issues discussed, in order that they may be able to intelligently decide who the logical candidates for the various offices are. The candidates are then endorsed by this Committee, in an open meeting such as was held at the Junior High School East last month, where the present candidates of this Committee were nominated and endorsed.

The aim of this body is to work as an organized unit behind their endorsed candidate, in order that these candidates might have a better opportunity for election than if they ran for office unsupported.

The Committee extends an invitation to all the voters to attend its next Sunday meeting at Junior High East at 2.30 o'clock.

LOEW'S ORPHEUM THEATRE

Constance Bennett, in the dual role of a wife with stage aspirations and an attractive French show girl, is the feature screen attraction at Loew's Orpheum this week together with an all star bill of vaudeville.

Headlining the big vaudeville show is the Joy Boy himself, Professor Lambert, in an unusual piano offering entitled, "Kidding on the Keys." Jans and Lynton with Frankie Little, Joan Zappa, and Jimmy Smith are next in a highly enjoyable comedy, singing and dancing presentation which sparkles with vivacity and pep. Charles Forsythe and Addie Seamon make merry in another musical sketch assisted by Eleanor Ferrell while others on the bill are Snocoser, Jr., billed as "The Intellectual Collier," Lane and Lee in a comedy skit, "Locked Out" and Oskali and Taki, oriental wonder workers complete the bill.

High School Notes

An assembly in remembrance of Washington and Lincoln was held last Friday at the high school. Harold Burgess, chairman of the assembly, led the opening exercises. He also compared Washington and Lincoln as to the strong faith in both of them.

Allen Smith next spoke telling the human side of Washington and interesting anecdotes of his life. Russell Curry told about the youth of Washington. Dorothy Evans showed the influence that women had in both Washington's and Lincoln's lives. Both of these great leaders were influenced to a great extent by their mothers.

"The Patriotic Overture" was played by the high school orchestra, after which Ralph Meyerson talked on Lincoln as an inspiration and John Murphy told of him as an influence. The last number on the program was a poem, "Our Sun Has Gone Down" read by Dorothy Johnson. This poem showed the national feeling toward Lincoln's death.

Bill Drouet Writes On Coming Election

Dear Mr. Editor: Our yearly masculine beauty contest is underway. In your last week's issue beneath the handsome portrait of a popular entrant appears the astounding statement,

"Arlington taxes have not risen." Please pass the hypodermic.

Remember that rand new automobile we paid $1000 for in 1929, the Era of the Great Headache? We put all the last time into it and it was all we had to tax. And the Tax Sleuths, who seldom miss a trick, came around and taxed us on that $1000 investment. Each succeeding year the market knocked it for three figures and the dear assessors did likewise and taxed us in almost perfect tune with that decline. It would take a violinist to detect a sour note.

Supposing however they had continued to tax us for what is now a market eyesore on that original valuation of $1000. Would the handsome candidate have the temerity to say that our taxes on our taxable wealth had not increased? But know, Mr. Litterateur, that according to prevailing estimate five-sixth of our taxable wealth consists of real estate. Wouldn't you say that the number of parcel within our village boundaries that would now bring within 50 percent of their 1929 cash rating is microscopic? Have the valuation experts found this out yet? There is nothing in their annual taxable wealth returns to convincingly support an affirmative.

I am tempted to throw a bundle of legal authority at you but you wouldn't bother to digest it. The tax-rate is merely the anesthesia. What the surgeons actually re- move is something else again. Arlington's municipal economy will doubtless compare favorably with the majority of seigniories. Let it go at that. Her taxes have not risen? My-eyel! Let this beauty contest be restricted to naked truth as all honorable beauty contests should. We are fed up on lipstick, rouge and padded hips. The past shows that they bring only senility. Wm. C. Drouet.

Union Service Attended By Large Number

The Rev. Henry R. Rose, D.D., pastor of the First Universalist Church of Haverhill, noted lecturer and traveler, was guest preacher. His sermon was "Who are you?" During the course of his sermon he said that man is in union with the universe and that man is a living-soul in the image of God.

Music was supplied by the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church Choir and included the following soloists: Miss Isabel M. Miller, Soprano; M. Raymond Coffey, Baritone; Charles E. Dockrill, Tenor; Miss Phyllis I. Nelson, Violinist, and Carl S. Nelson, Organist and Director.

The program was as follows: Prelude, "Andante Religioso," Theme; Hymn of Praise, "Coronation," Peronnet; Invocation, closing with the Lord's Prayer in unison, Rev. Ralph F. Palmer; Scripture Reading, Rev. Clifford O. Simpson; Anthem, "Jerusalem," Parker, The Calvary Church Choir; Prayer, Rev. Gordon E. Bigelow; Prayer Response, "Ask and It Shall Be Given You," Stebbins, The Calvary Church Choir; Offering; Offertory Anthem, "How Long Wilt Thou Forget Me?" Speaks, The Calvary Church Choir; Hymn of Meditation, "Immortal Love," Whittier; Sermon, Rev. Henry R. Rose, D.D.; Closing Hymn, "Lead On, O King Eternal," Shurtleff; Benediction, Rev. Rubens Rea Hadley; Postlude, "Grand Chorus," Guilman, The Calvary Church Choir.

He has been a property owner and taxpayer in this Town for several years and has taken active interest in local governmental affairs. He is a resident of Pleasant Street.

For over twenty-seven years Mr. Hughes has been a practicing attorney.

He is a man of ability, integrity and honor. If elected to the office of Selectman he promises fearless and faithful service to the people of Arlington.

FOR

Mr. Ryan asks for a second term. He has proved himself to be a good administrator. In spite of a tremendous reduction in appropriation he has carried on the work of the Department with efficiency and intelligence, and every Department under his direction stayed within its appropriation.

New streets this year were constructed by Town Labor for $6,000 less than the estimated cost, resulting in the saving of that amount for the abutters on these streets.

Under his direction, money appropriated for the purchase of equipment was transferred to projects which gave more work to the unemployed.

He has consistently fought for the working man and was largely responsible for raising the funds for materials which made it possible to obtain CWA money from the Federal Government.

He is a man of the people. He has earned the right to a second term.
